

Appendix E

Alaska Cultural Standards for Students

The Alaska Cultural Standards for Students were developed by the Alaska Native Knowledge Network in 1988. They also were adopted by the State Board of Education and Early Development in the same year. The standards are broad statements of what students should know and be able to do as a result of their experience in a school that is aware of and sensitive to the surrounding physical and cultural environment. The standards are meant to enrich the Content Standards and provide guidelines for nurturing and building in students the rich and varied cultural traditions that continue to be practiced in communities throughout Alaska.

Alaska Standards for Culturally Responsive Schools were also developed for educators, schools, curriculum and communities by Alaska native educators to provide a way for schools and communities to examine the extent to which they are attending to the educational and cultural well being of the students in their care (Source: Alaska Standards for Culturally Responsive Schools).

#	Standard	Students who meet this cultural standard are able to:
A	Culturally-knowledgeable students are well grounded in the cultural heritage and traditions of their community.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Assume responsibility for their role in relation to the well-being of the cultural community and their life-long obligations as a community member. - Acquire and pass on the traditions of their community through oral and written history. - Practice their traditional responsibilities to the surrounding environment. - Reflect through their own actions the critical role that the local heritage language plays in fostering a sense of who they are and how they understand the world around them. - Live a life in accordance with the cultural values and traditions of the local community and integrate them into their everyday behavior. - Determine the place of their cultural community in the regional, state, national and international political and economic systems.

#	Standard	Students who meet this cultural standard are able to:
B	Culturally-knowledgeable students are able to build on the knowledge and skills of the local cultural community as a foundation from which to achieve personal and academic success throughout life.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Acquire insights from other cultures without diminishing the integrity of their own. - Make effective use of the knowledge, skills and ways of knowing from their own cultural traditions to learn about the larger world in which they live. - Make appropriate choices regarding the long-term consequences of their actions. - Identify appropriate forms of technology and anticipate the consequences of their use for improving the quality of life in the community.
C	Culturally-knowledgeable students are able to actively participate in various cultural environments.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Perform subsistence activities in ways that are appropriate to local cultural traditions. - Make constructive contributions to the governance of their community and the well-being of their family. - Attain a healthy lifestyle through which they are able to maintain their own social, emotional, physical, intellectual and spiritual well-being. - Enter into and function effectively in a variety of cultural settings.
D	Culturally-knowledgeable students are able to engage effectively in learning activities that are based on traditional ways of knowing and learning.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Acquire in-depth cultural knowledge through active participation and meaningful interaction with Elders. - Participate in and make constructive contributions to the learning activities associated with a traditional camp environment. - Interact with Elders in a loving and respectful way that demonstrates an appreciation of their role as culture-bearers and educators in the community. - Gather oral and written history information from the local community and provide an appropriate interpretation of its cultural meaning and significance. - Identify and utilize appropriate sources of cultural knowledge to find solutions to everyday problems. - Engage in a realistic self-assessment to identify strengths and needs and make appropriate decisions to enhance life skills.

#	Standard	Students who meet this cultural standard are able to:
E	Culturally-knowledgeable students demonstrate an awareness and appreciation of the relationships and processes of interaction of all elements in the world around them.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Recognize and build upon the inter-relationships that exist among the spiritual, natural and human realms in the world around them, as reflected in their own cultural traditions and beliefs as well as those of others. - Understand the ecology and geography of the bioregion they inhabit. - Demonstrate an understanding of the relationship between world view and the way knowledge is formed and used. - Determine how ideas and concepts from one knowledge system relate to those derived from other knowledge systems. - Recognize how and why cultures change over time. - Anticipate the changes that occur when different cultural systems come in contact with one another. - Determine how cultural values and beliefs influence the interaction of people from different cultural backgrounds. - Identify and appreciate who they are and their place in the world.